Class Song

(Tune: Aloha Oe)

*Dear old school, the parting time has come;
 Willingly, yet sadly, do we go - -
 For the past four years these halls have been our home,
 Now we leave, to hit the trail—alone.*

CHORUS

*Farewell to you,
 Farewell to you,
 We leave you now, in gladness, yet in sorrow;
 That the coming years
 Will treat you well
 Is the parting wish of the Class of '25.*

Senior Class History

IT was on a damp, rainy day, in September, 1921, when our class of over one hundred and fifty studious-looking youngsters, toddled to the high school and humbly requested the principal to allow us to enter that institution. He consented, and we at once took the name of Freshmen. In the eyes of the upper classmen, we were the worst-looking class that had thus far entered school. We disregarded their jeers, however, and began our work in earnest. At our first class meeting we selected our officers: Stanley Carrol was chosen as pilot for the class. He was ably assisted by Frank Conner, vice-president; Pauline Bergeron, secretary; and Harold Renfro, treasurer. Our president dropped school, and the honor of being the leader of the peppiest class in school fell to our vice-president.

In spite of our ups and downs, the progress of the class was not to be laughed at. We were well represented in every activity.

Near the close of the year the Sophomores entertained us royally with a Freshmen-Sophomore mixer.

Great was our joy at the beginning of our second year when we could be called Sophomores. How dignified that word sounded! We did not forget our troubles of the previous year, however, and we always paid the Freshies the deepest respect. After we were well organized we gave a party for them in order to initiate them into the life of the school. Our progress made during this year exceeded that of our Freshman year. Several of our members turned out for football and basketball. The girls, too, were well represented in athletics.

When we were Juniors we really began to feel like upper classmen. Our officers for this year were: Alfred Johnson, president; Hjalmer Walberg, vice-president; and Thelma Stendal, secretary and treasurer. At the carnival our side show attracted great crowds and greatly enlarged our financial fund. Our booth won first prize for being the best decorated.

We were again well represented on the grid-iron and the basketball floor.

We couldn't possibly finish our Junior year without having a picnic. This picnic was held at Lake Stevens, and was intended to be for the Juniors and Seniors only. It turned out to be almost an all-school picnic but everyone enjoyed himself by swimming and dancing.

1925—and Seniors at last!! The Senior class is supposed to be the leading one, and we feel that we have fulfilled that requirement. Our capable president, Hjalmer Walberg, has guided us safely through our last and greatest school year. The number from this class that turned out for athletics was larger than ever. Those making letters in football were: Tom Mullen, Wesley Cole, Gus Hedlund, Arthur Harnett, Charles Johnson, Willis Egelkrout, and Milo Sexton. Basketball letters were awarded to Gus Hedlund, Tom Mullen, Max Burlingame and Arthur Harnett.

The Senior Ball was held in the new gymnasium on April 24, and was voted the most enjoyable affair of the entire year. The Senior play, "Grumpy," was also a great success.

Now that we have finished our high school years, we can do nothing more—only to wish the greatest success to those still attending school here, and to hope that our happiness and success in the years to come will be as great as it has been during the past four years.

Class Will

WE, the senior class of 1925, of the Sedro-Woolley High School, of Sedro-Woolley, Washington, have only a short time to remain upon these grounds or grinds of education, and before departing to the "Unexplored Land of Higher Education" do ordain, that being of sound minds, both mentally and physically fit, we make our last will and testament to be carried out in detail.

We, the senior class, do hereby will and bequeath to the members of the faculty, a larger and more troublesome class of seniors, and also the framed motto—"Fools ask questions that wise men cannot answer."

To the Juniors: 1—A shovel, with which to dig up enough credits to graduate next year.

2—The privilege of a daily shower, in order that they may keep cool.

To the Sophomores: A little book, entitled "Manners, and how to act in Public."

To the Freshmen: A hammer, to aid them in getting some knowledge into their heads.

ITEMS

Hilma Olsen wills and bequeaths to Paul Alexander her dimples and her marcel.

Max Burlingame wills to Lewis Nelson his power to acquire seven pages of history in the last minute before the bell.

George Kocman wills to Byron Byrne the crease in his trousers and the part in his hair; to Clarence Carr, his ability to lead yells.

Hazel Catherwood bequeaths to Alma Fender her love for dancing.

Jack Ryno wills to Louis LaPlant his ability to reach school every morning before 9:10.

Gus Hedlund wills to Gerald Rhine his prowess with the ladies.

John Sansom bequeaths his debating and acting abilities to Kingsley Miller.

Lenoir Robinson wills to Stanley Bates a few of his freckles to aid those already adorning his face.

Harold Anderson bequeaths to Jay Phillips his complexion and blushes.

Neale Wright wills to Orville Shiek his place at the Northern Hospital, in addition to Orville's own.

Lorna Slipper wills to Margaret Shellhammer her love of literature.

Edgar Gates bequeaths to Thomas McGinnis his ability to keep his hair in wave and in order.

Orville Fields wills to Alma Nelson his power to use slang slangily.

Reva Anderson bequeaths to Agnes McGinnis her marvelous vamping qualities, with the instructions not to overstep the mark, and be attracted by any of "those Mt. Vernon boys."

Thelma Stendal wills to Katherine Rhine the leading part in the senior play; and to the next year's Kuntux advisor, the hope that there will be as capable an editor next year.

Hjalmer Walberg wills to Joe Baldrige his impassive calm, and ability to rule a senior class with a firm hand.

Clara Elbert bequeaths to Beth Fahey her Latin abilities, and the power to get up Girls' Club Programs.

Ruth Byham wills the piano bench in the orchestra to Violet Adams, and a copy of Tosti's "Goodbye," for the Student Body.

In witness whereof, We, the class of 1925, do hereby set our hand and seal unto this document this month of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred, and twenty-five.

—THE CLASS OF 1925.

Prophecy

EXTRACT from The Cub of the year 1940. Professor Lorna Slipper, adviser of this famous high school paper has collected together the true facts of the great achievements and where-abouts of the graduating students of the noble class of '25. The text follows:

On this summer day of the year 1940, I attended the world's famous performance, "Carry me back to my High School days," given at the noted assembly hall in the Sedro-Woolley High School.

The large hall was filled with persons from far and near—queer looking people of every race, all eager to see this noted company perform.

I was busy gazing at the beauty of the place, when suddenly I noticed upon the wall a picture of a familiar face. Looking more closely, I found it to be that of Hjalmer Walberg, our newly elected U. S. President. How proud I felt to think that I had been in his class of '25. In the corner I found the wonderful artist who so well had painted this picture—and who was it? Ella Nelson, his devoted wife.

A crowd of foreign looking people were causing some disturbance and thus drew my attention. As I watched these strange persons, I recognized my classmates, Frances Hegg, Alfred Johnson, Evelyn Carrol, Hilma Olsen and Philinda Frisk. After talking with them I learned that they had joined the company of Ole Olson, and now traveled with that famous character. But who, I asked, is this Ole Olson? A person looking well the type of this character rose, and answered "I'm the person." I turned in astonishment and beheld Gus Hedlund, the actor himself.

Realizing that the performance was about to start I started to my seat, but was called back by Gus who said, "Meet the wife." I expected, of course, to see Margaret McKay, but was somewhat startled to find myself looking at the smiling countenance of Audrey Schopf.

I noticed sitting in one of the boxes the well-known society belles, Clara Elbert, Irene Murphy, John Ryno and Lynn Curry.

The famous Gates' five-piece orchestra was playing some of Gilbert Haffly's masterpieces. The leader of the orchestra was Edgar Gates, successor of Betty Jordon. Lenore Hammer and Max Burlingame were solo violinists (Max now taking lessons from Lenore in hopes of winning her hand).

The programs displayed advertisements of famous home industries. Some of them were:

"Dagny Ostlund and Harold Anderson's Art and Graft Shop."

"Anti-Joyrider Auto—Patented by Neale Wright."

"Delbert Bates' Steam Heated Bicycle for Winter Joyriders."

"Ruth Byham's Brain Brusher, Clear the Mind while you wait."

At last, the curtain was raised, and with great joy I witnessed John Sanson's presentation of, "It Pays to Argue." A five act thriller featuring the world famous screen artist, Verna Schramsky, who is taking Pola Negri's place, assisted by an all-star cast, including Ada Kimbrough, Henry Minkler, Lucille Loving, Hazel Catherwood, and George Kocman.

The first act was a piano recital by Elna Anderson, the pianist, who makes classical music jazzy. Next, I heard Arthur Bargewell, the singing nightingale, who brought down the house with his selections. Joe Cooper in her Kaleidescope "Review of Dance" proved to be America's most popular danseuse. She was ably assisted by Mildred Scantland, Nola McKee and Frances Cannon, in an inimitable delivery of songs, assisted by Arthur Harnett, former professor of trigonometry and mathematics at Corwin Pilon's Seminary.

The next act was under the personal presentation of Sis Catherwood; it was the "Champion Chatterboxes," with Mildred Palmateer and Allabell Gillespie. Physical culture was the title of the next performance. It introduced the world's famous boxers, Charles Johnson and Bertha McKay. Their trainer is Rowene Livermore.

Then came the heated debate, "Is Stub Pennington as good a model for men to follow, in their dress, as the former Prince of Wales, Wesley Cole," with Edna Watkins and Melba DeWitt (to be Mrs. Willis Egelkrout) engaged in furious combat. The victory goes to Melba, due to the fact that Willis was the one judge.

A brief intermission followed this excitement, during which the members of the "Better Women Society," gave short speeches; among these were Lorna Dixon, Reva Anderson, Agnes Snar, Constance Antzen, Evaline Hegg and Tom Mullen.

Following this, "Topics of the Day," was featured. The first picture was of our new candidate for Vice-President, Milo Sexton; pictured with him was his wife, formerly Grace Leeman and Fred Seidell, Prime Minister to Russia.

The world's greatest painless dentist, Herbert Stein, was shown extracting a tooth from Alma Frisell's new set of teeth. His assistant was Altea Larson. (Their engagement is rumored about).

A court scene followed this, and showed the noted judge, Joe LaPlant, holding a trial in a spacious court room. The desperate looking man in the prisoners' stand—who was he? It was Lenior Robinson, arrested for bigamy, his three wives being formerly Vergie McKain, Amy Johnson and Nellie Gates. After a valiant plea for lunacy on the part of his attorneys, Myrtle Stohr and Hazel Norvelle, Judge LaPlant somewhat affected by his school days, sentenced the prisoner to only fifty years of hard labor. As the judge pronounced his sentence, district attorney McCord, and court stenographer, Dona Davis, heaved happy sighs of relief, while Police Reporter Charlotte Carr hurried to publish her story in the next edition of Jack Porter's paper.

The world's fastest and most daring flyers were shown on their round-the-world flights in 6 hrs., 3 minutes. These daring persons are: Eleanor Hayes, Dorothy Bradford, Amy Johnson and Minnie Russell.

Pictures of Margaret McKays' home for broken-hearted girls were shown. This palace, under the careful construction of Orville Fields, was built very beautifully. Among the crowd of persons residing here I found Agnes Skagland, Eleanor Rowland, Mary Ray.

This brought to an end the most enjoyable program I had seen since my days at Woolley High. After the performance all the members of the class of '25 gathered together and you can imagine the time we had discussing old times and happenings. It was a regular reunion and one not to be forgotten by any of us.

Junior Class History

IN 1923, a large class of freshmen entered these halls of learning, to stare about and tremble at seniors, as has been the privilege of freshmen for ages gone by.

At their first class meeting they selected their class flower and colors, and made "We can" their motto. From that day to this they have never failed to live up to it.

They not only managed to survive that first year, but came through very creditably; the next year the same crowd was back, with a few exceptions and a few additions. They had representatives on several athletic teams and won the inter-class basketball championship.

The third year, seven boys made letters in athletics: Wesley Ruble, Ross Cook, Cecil Hopper, Charles Lederle, John Ewing, Harold McMackin and Howard Bolton. At the high school carnival, the juniors made more money than any other class. Then too, they were well represented on the honor rolls, and had many members on the Cub and Kumtux Staffs.

This may seem like boasting, but what members of a class like that could write of the facts and not boast?

Class History

ON the 5th of September, 1923, 145 meek and timid freshmen entered into High School life. We were the brunt of many jokes cast by the upper classmen. At our first class meeting, we organized our class and nominated officers. Later, we elected our capable officers, who were: Margaret Conner, president; Louise Bergeron, vice-president; Dorothy Carr, secretary; and Merle Lane, treasurer. We were now firmly established in High School life.

The Sophs gave us a party, which we greatly appreciated.

During our first year, we were well represented in all school activities.

In the fall of 1924, the majority of us were Sophomores. Some had dropped behind, but others had taken their places, as we numbered 146.

We entertained the Freshmen at a mixer, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Again, a good many of our numbers turned out for all activities. Several took part in Cub work, dramatics, football, basketball, baseball, and track.

Our first two years have been very successful, and we hope our last years may be, also.

THE Student Council, as the governing body of Sedro-Woolley High School, has ended its third year of activity with remarkable success. It has succeeded in working out a well organized plan of student control, which has proved satisfactory on all occasions. The aptness with which it handled the school carnival, basket ball tournament and other activities, shows its efficiency in carrying out the work of the school in a thoroughly competent manner.

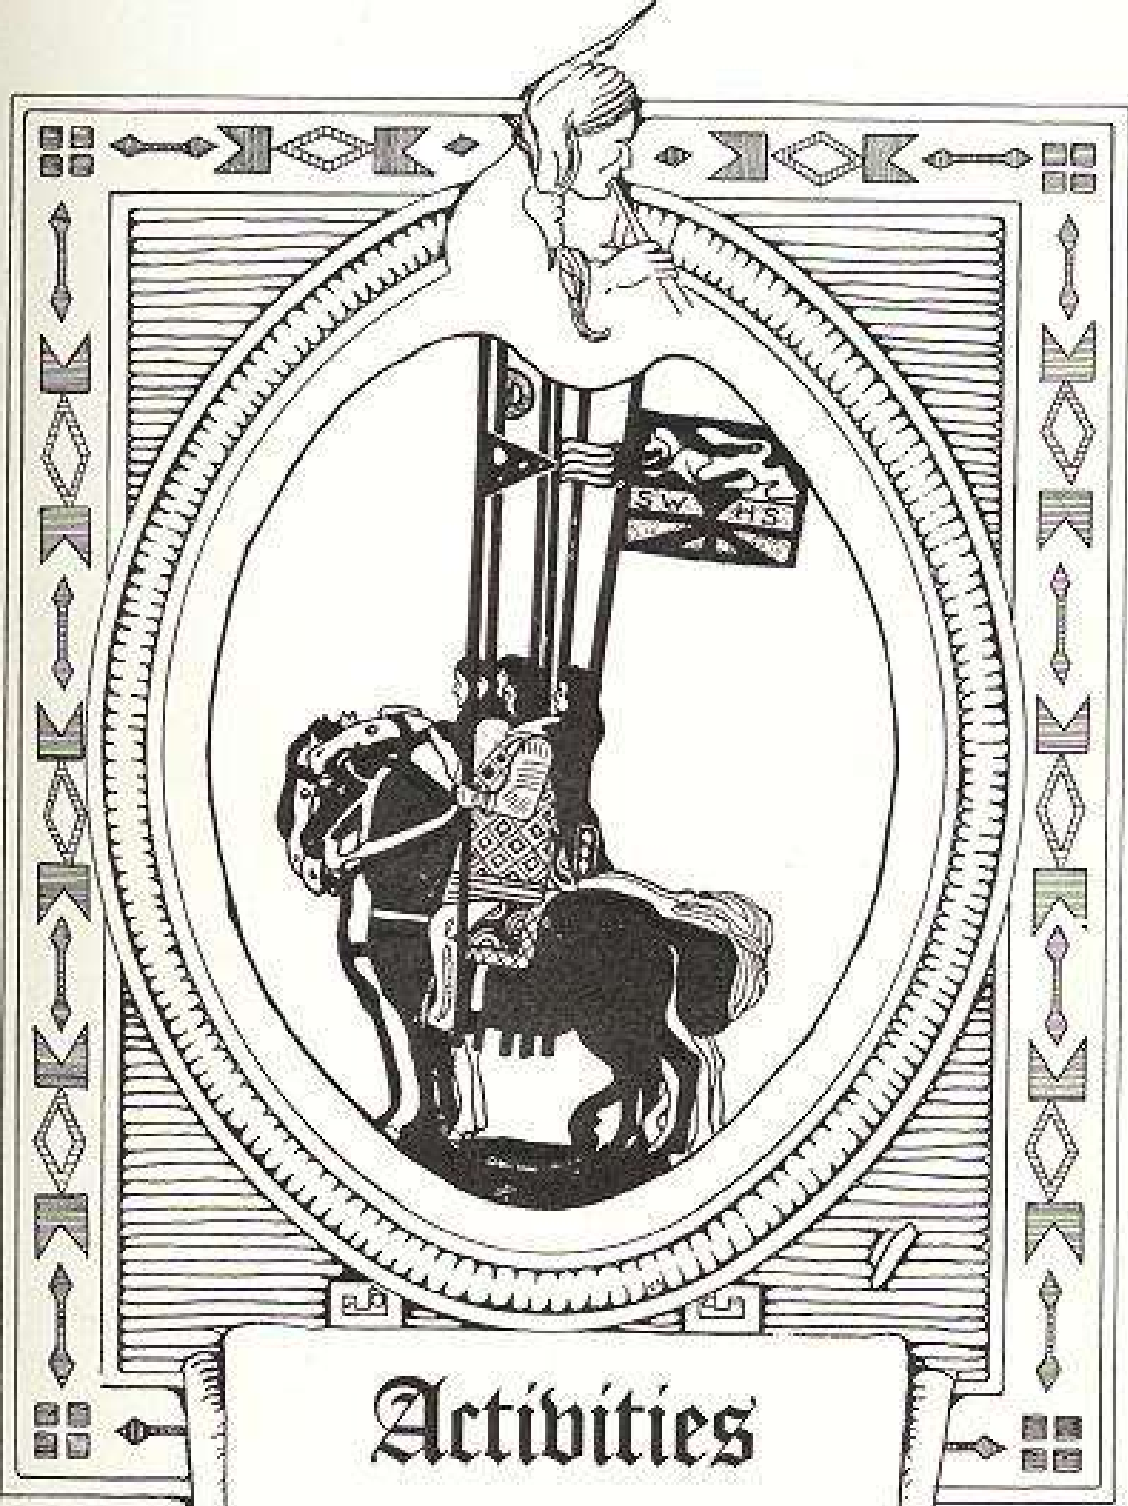

At one of the meetings of the Executive Council, at the beginning of the year, it was decided to establish a new Honor System. Before this time nothing of this sort has been started here. However, most of the larger high schools in the state have adopted this system. Under this system, the officers of the major activities, including President of the Student Body, Editors of Kumtux and Cub, and Lettermen of the first teams, receive so many points according to the office they hold. The officers of the minor organizations, consisting of class officers, members of second team, etc., would not receive as many points as those officers of the major organizations. Grades are also taken into consideration in counting up the points. E's, 4 points, G's, 2 points, etc.; honors are awarded. Seniors having 110 points get gold pins.

Through the effort of the Executive Council we were able to make a success of the N. W. W. tournament. This is the first time we have had a tournament and everyone must agree that it was a success. The praise should be given to the Council. $800 was cleared from the tournament.

Girls' Club

THE first meeting of the Girls' Club was held September 17. This year the club was reorganized. This was done under the able direction of Miss Biehler and Miss E. Laird. The six following committees were appointed:

1—The Handy Andies, whose duty it was to keep the building clean. The chairman of this committee was Theo Cummings.

2—The Howdy Club, which was to promote good fellowship among the girls. Chairman, Allabell Gillespie.

3—The Merry Makers, who had charge of the entertainment. Chairman, Clara Elbert.

4—The Pollyannas, who were to cheer up the girls out of school on account of illness. Chairman, Josephine Cooper.

5—The Cozy Corner Kids, who took care of the rest room. Chairman, Alda Hendrickson.

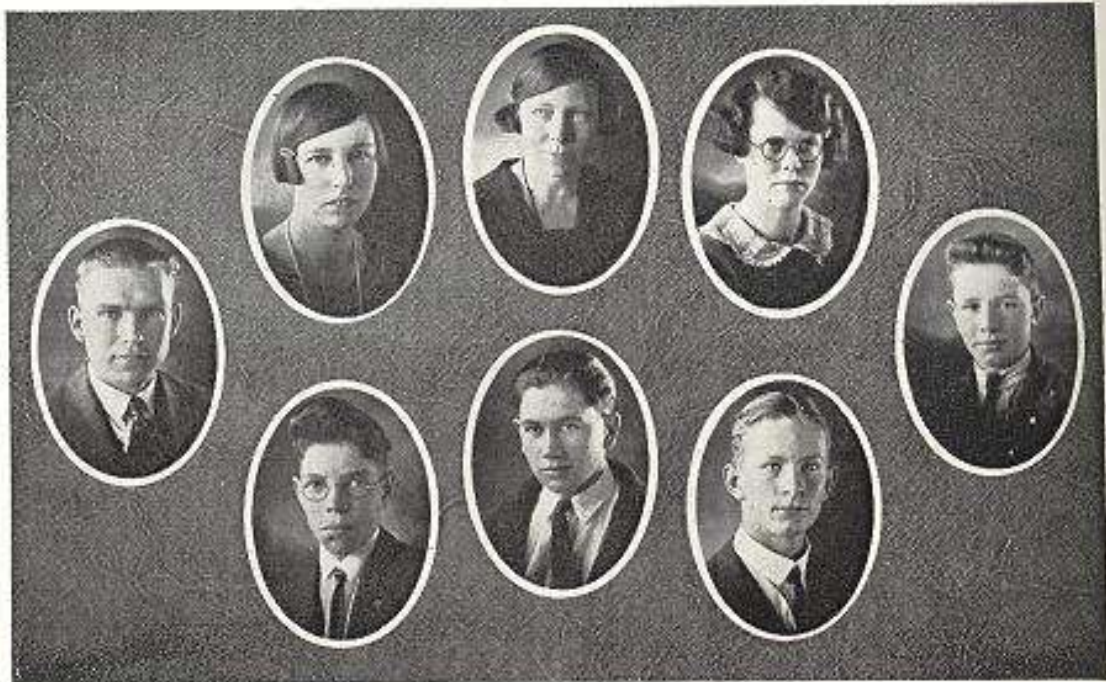

Meetings of the Girls' Club were held on the third Wednesday of every month. The Merry Makers provided entertainment for every meeting. Several plays were given, and other interesting features were enjoyed.

Another thing, that the Girls' Club did this year, was to issue Health Charts. Every girl was given a chart, and a contest was held for one month. The class having the lowest average was to give a program to the girls.

The Club also carried out the Big Sister Movement. Each junior and senior girl was given the name of a freshman girl and was to act as a big sister to that girl.

The officers for this year were: President, Marian Meyers; Vice-President, Clara Elbert; Secretary, Aurilla Scheyer; Treasurer, The Bergeron Twins.

The Girls' Club has had a very successful year. There have been many improvements in the rest room, and much other work has been accomplished. The Girls' Club is one of the oldest Clubs in the school, and every year it has improved, so we can look forward to next year as being more successful than ever.

Dramatic Club

BEFORE the end of last year, about one hundred pupils signed up for a Dramatic Club.

The Club was organized early this year. Considering the fact that this is the first year that there has been a Dramatic Club, it has had unusual success. The success of the club is largely due to Miss Jones, the very efficient faculty adviser.

At the first meeting of the year, the following officers were chosen: Neale Wright, president; Willard Eaton, vice-president; Lulu Eastridge, secretary-treasurer. Meetings were held twice every month. A program committee was chosen for each meeting and an interesting program was given each time. These programs consisted of music, dancing and other phases of dramatic art. Very often, speeches were given by some members of the faculty or by some outside person who was well versed in this line. These talks gave the club information in regard to stage settings, make-up, and other things of interest.

The Dramatic Club presented a one act farce, "The Gate," at the High School Carnival. This was the first play that it presented, but it was a decided success. Next the Club offered "Spreading the News," a comical Irish drama, which was part of a delightful program given in the assembly.

With such splendid work accomplished the first year, it is expected that the Dramatic Club will be larger, and will accomplish much more work, next year.

The Debate Season

THE season of 1924-25 has been very successful for the debate team. When the final count was taken, Sedro-Woolley tied with Edison and Mount Vernon, for first place in Skagit county. The question on which all high school teams of Washington debated was, "Resolved: That the Phillippines should be granted immediate independence." A number of students responded when the call was made for volunteers at the tryout last fall. From this number were chosen three seniors: Edna Watkins, Melba DeWitt and John Sansom; two juniors: Roy Bryson and Paul Alexander; two freshmen: Charles Hendrickson and George Alexander. As practically all of these were inexperienced, Miss Andrews had to work up a new team. Regardless of this, the team won three of the scheduled debates and one practice debate.

The first debate of the season was held December 5, in the high school auditorium. The Cubs, represented by Edna, Melba and John, upheld the affirmative side of the question. The speakers from Arlington were Novelle Nettles, Lena Hollingsworth and Carl Lowe. The Cubs were victorious.

The Cubs brought home a second victory, January 9, when they met Edison's strong team which had won the county championship for three years. Edison, upholding the affirmative, was represented by Miss Seiglebouth, Miss Dae and Mr. Murrow. Sedro-Woolley's team was again composed of Edna, Melba and John.

During the interval between the second and third debates a practice debate was arranged for by the Badger Debate Club of the University of Washington, to take place between one of their teams and the Cubs. Those chosen to represent Sedro-Woolley were Edna Watkins and John Sansom, while Robert Dorsey and Clyde Linville represented the Badger Debate club. This proved to be another victory for Sedro-Woolley.

Encouraged by their previous victories, the Cubs went into the Whatcom debate, February 13, with the determination to win. But luck was against them, for when the Judges' decisions were read they proved to be in favor of Whatcom. Sedro-Woolley's team, composed of the same members, Edna, Melba and John, defended the affirmative, while the three Whatcom speakers, taking the negative, were Edgar Worth, William Mack and Helge Johanson. Debate fans attributed the losing of this debate to the influence of Friday the thirteenth.

On March 13, the Cubs went out to battle with Oak Harbor. This time they proved that there is no base for the superstition that Friday the thirteenth is unlucky. The Cubs, with the same team, had the negative side of the question, while the affirmative was upheld by Oak Harbor's team. This was composed of Richard Zylstra, Peter Frosted and Mel Neil.

Much interest has been shown in debate by the students this year and it is partly due to this interest that the team has been so successful. Debate requires much work on the part of the team, and also, the coach. Much credit should be given to Miss Andrews. She has been back of the success of the debate team, this year. She had many obstacles to overcome, but this she did and had, as a result, the pleasure of seeing her team victors of four debates.

Debate Club

THE Debate Club is a new organization in this school, but it is hoped that it will have a permanent place. It was organized November 9, with John Sansom, president; Melba DeWitt, vice-president and Orville Fields, secretary and treasurer.

The first meeting was held October 22, when the question, "Resolved: That athletics are beneficial," was debated. The affirmative team consisted of Roy Bryson and Melba DeWitt, and the negative of Lorna Slipper and John Sansom. This resulted in a tie.

At the second meeting, held November 19, the question, "Resolved: That Spanish is more useful to Americans than French," was debated with Frances Cannon and George Alexander taking the affirmative, which won, while the negative was upheld by Aurilla Scheyer and Ellis Hendrickson.

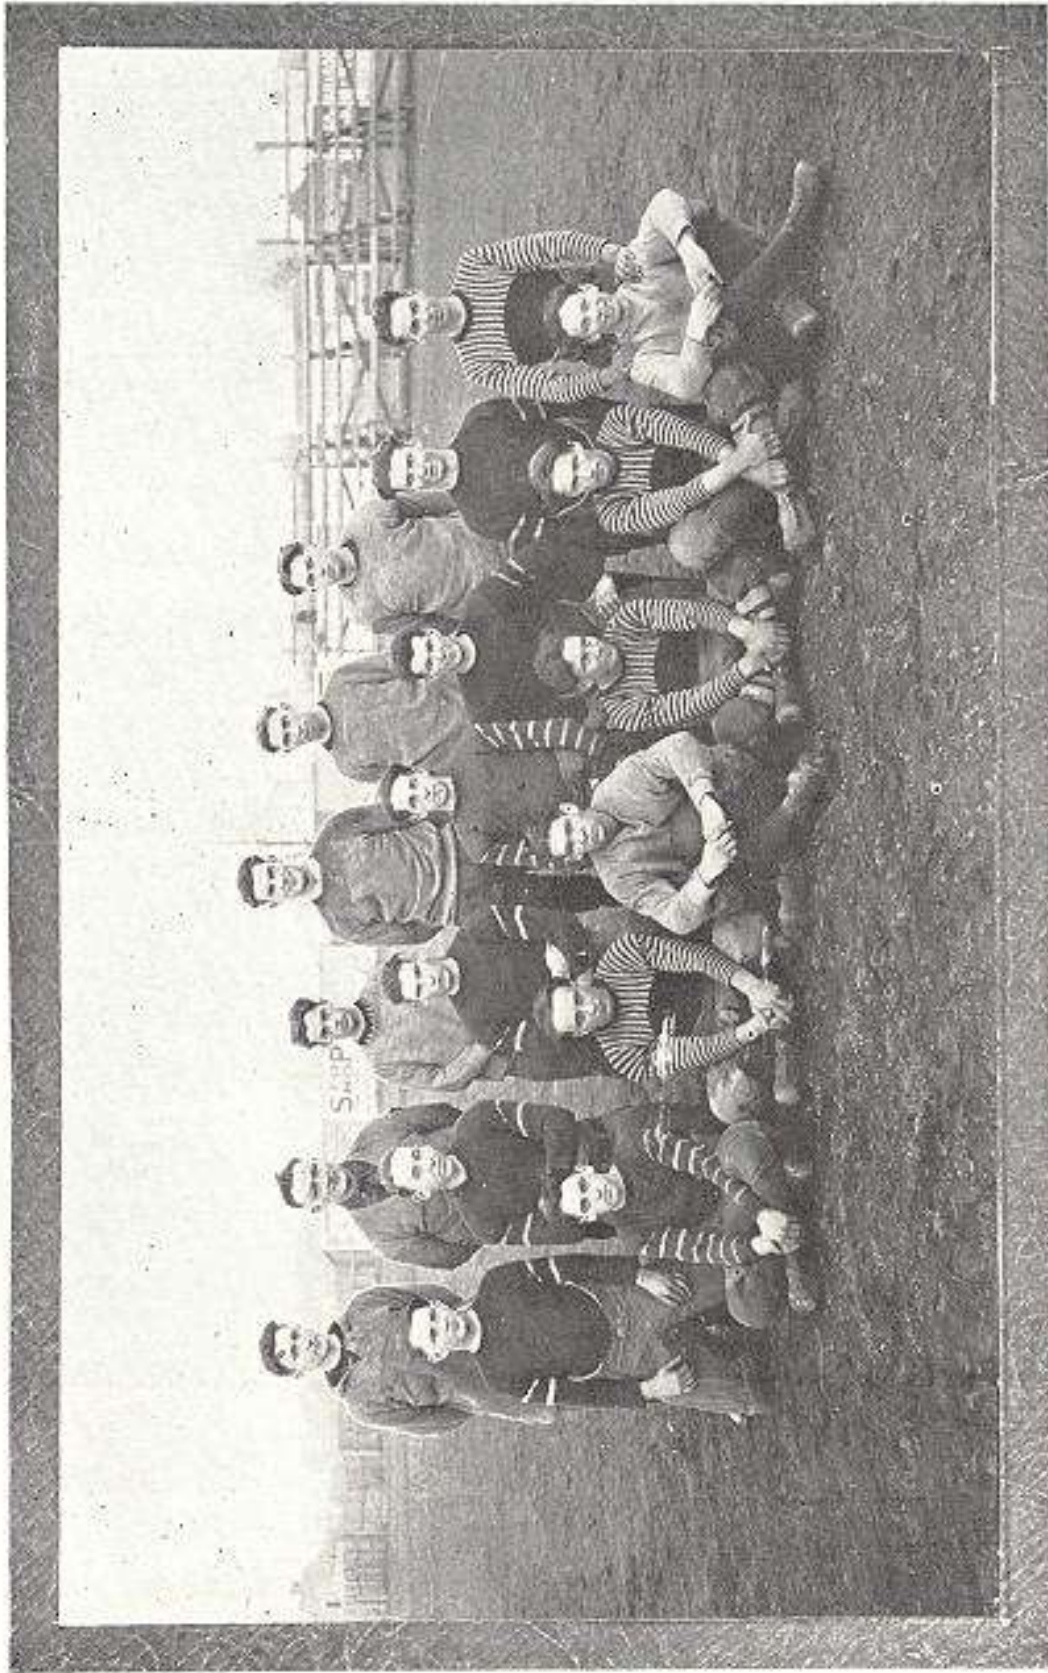

On December 30, a hotly contested debate was held. The affirmative of the question, "Resolved: That the manufacture and sale of chewing gum should be abolished," was upheld by Josephine Cooper and Orville Fields, while their contestants were Hazel Norvelle and William Parsons. The affirmative was victorious.

On January 20, Clara Elbert and Charles Hendrickson were victorious when they proclaimed the pin to be more useful than the match. Morjorie Norvelle and Paul Alexander composed the losing team.

That South America has brighter prospects for the future than Europe was proved February 17, by Frances Cannon and Ellis Hendrickson. James Bryson and George Alexander upheld the negative.

"Resolved: That internal enemies are more detrimental to the welfare of our country than external enemies," was taken as the question for debate, March 17. Hazel Norvelle and Charles Hendrickson, composing the affirmative team, defeated the negative team, consisting of Josephine Cooper and Roy Bryson.

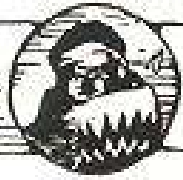

Besides the various debates, the monthly programs consisted also of readings and talks. The club has proved itself necessary and the members have voted to continue it next year.

Athletics

Sedro-Woolley, 7; Burlington, 6
Played at Sedro-Woolley, Nov. 1, 1924.

After losing three games straight, the team came back and beat Burlington in a closely contested game. Our team was in bad form and penalties cost us one touchdown. Burlington staged a rally in the last quarter, nearly making a touchdown. All of their yardage was made on passes.

Sedro-Woolley, 14; Stanwood, 6
Played at Sedro-Woolley, Nov. 7, 1924.

The Cubs defeated Stanwood in a game featured by many long runs by both teams. Gus Hedlund, playing his first game at quarter, showed his worth by running the team smoothly, as well as doing some fancy open field running.

Sedro-Woolley, 56; Anacortes, 0
Played at Sedro-Woolley, Nov. 15, 1924.

The Cubs proved too much for the Anacortes team, although the game was one sided; it was, nevertheless, very interesting because in this game, the Cubs showed all open work and many trick plays which baffled Anacortes. The game was featured by long passes, by Stromberg.

Sedro-Woolley, 0; Mt. Vernon, 7
Played at Mt. Vernon, Nov. 27, 1924.

This game was played for the championship of the county. It was a heart-breaking game for the Cubs to lose, because they showed more power, making much more yardage than did the Bulldogs. The breaks were against them, when twice with the ball on the 6-inch line, they could not put it over. Mt. Vernon's one score came on a pass, one minute before first half.

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

The first thing that one must have in football, in order to have a good first team, is a good second team. The Cub's second stringers certainly showed that they were good. It takes a great deal of nerve to stay out all year, to be hammered by the first team all of the time. They deserve more credit than they get, because they whip the first team into shape.

The Cub seconds played Concrete's first team for their first game, which ended in a 20 to 0 victory for the Cubs. Concrete had a large team but our boys had more fight, experience, and speed.

The Cubs next played Hamilton; the latter showed that they were no match for the plunging seconds, who won by the overwhelming score of 98-0. The inexperience of Hamilton proved to be their undoing.

The Cubs met both Hamilton and Concrete again, later in the season, but still showed their prowess over them by still defeating them all, though both teams showed up well.

Boys' Athletics

Football Schedule

Sedro-Woolley, 0; Alumni, 25

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Sept. 25, 1924.

The Cubs played their first game of the season in order to find out what kind of material they possessed. The Alumni won because of more experience and weight. The boys showed lots of fight and that's what we wanted.

Sedro-Woolley, 42; Oak Harbor, 0

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Oct. 4, 1924.

This was the first high school game the Cubs played and after Coach Galligan had put them into a little form they came back and looked more like a football team.

Sedro-Woolley, 14; Port Townsend, 20

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Oct. 11, 1924.

The Port Townsend game was one of the hardest fought games of the year. The outcome of the game was in doubt all of the time. The Cub backfield played a stellar game. The line also held its heavy opponents. Not till the closing moments did Townsend make the touchdown that took the heart-breaking game from the Cubs.

Sedro-Woolley, 0; Everett, 28

Played at Everett, Oct. 18, 1924.

The Cubs went to Everett to meet their powerful eleven. The boys, although heavily outweighed, fought hard but to no avail. The bright spot of the game was an 80-yard run by Ross Cook, mid-get quarterback, who caught a pass and made Everett's defense look bad.

Sedro-Woolley, 0; Whatcom, 27

Played at Whatcom, Oct. 24, 1924.

This was the third tough game in three weeks for the Cubs, but showed that they would not quit fighting even against odds. The field was a sea of mud. It was impossible for either team to show open work and thereby it lessened the Cubs' chances to win.

BASKETBALL TEAM

Boulton, Fritsch, Burlingame, Lederle, Mullen, Hopper, Harnett, Hedlund, Engleson, Windish, McKay, Cook, Moritz, Coach Galligan.

FIRST TEAM

Sedro-Woolley, 16; LaConner, 6

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 2, 1925.

The Cubs defeated LaConner, although they showed that much work had to be done before they could become of championship caliber.

Sedro-Woolley, 11; Stanwood, 13

Played at Stanwood, Jan. 9, 1925.

The Cubs lost their first county game. The game was rough and the gym small, therefore, our boys were not able to get started.

Sedro-Woolley, 14; Mount Vernon, 12

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 10, 1925.

The Cubs came back and defeated Mount Vernon in a thrilling game. Harnett shot a foul after the whistle blew, to tie the score. Hedlund shot a basket, in the five minutes overtime to win.

Sedro-Woolley, 37; Ferndale, 22

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 17, 1925.

The boys were all in form and showed how easy it is to make points by the use of good team work.

Sedro-Woolley, 18; Burlington, 22

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 20, 1925.

The team work of the Cubs was broken up just before this

ACTION PICTURE

OUR coach, Glendon Galligan, attended the Everett high school; he graduated from that school in 1916. He was prominent in athletics, and was one of the outstanding members of all of Everett's teams.

Mr. Galligan completed his course in athletic training at the University of Washington, where he also played on the football team. He graduated from this school in 1920. He gained his first teaching experience in Sedro-Woolley, as coach of the Sedro-Woolley high school teams. After being here three years, he plans, next year, to attend a medical college, with the intention of becoming a doctor.

Coach Galligan has advanced athletics in the Sedro-Woolley high school to a much better standard than they were before he came. His untiring efforts to produce good teams have won the respect of all the boys whom he has coached. His tactics and good work have made the boys want to turn out and train.

Although his teams have sometimes met with defeat, he has always kept faith with them, showing them their mistakes, and encouraging them to a better effort. His spirit behind the boys has helped them to keep fighting just as hard in the last minute of the game as in the first.

He believes in fair play and good sportsmanship, and it is thru these things that Sedro-Woolley has won her clean name in athletics.

Coach Galligan will be sadly missed by the students and townspeople, and his place will be hard to fill.

BASKETBALL TEAM

Sedro-Woolley, 18; Burlington, 22

Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 20, 1925.

The team work of the Cubs was broken up just before this game by the declaration that Mullen was ineligible, for he had too many credits. The game was a thriller, although the Cubs lost in five minutes overtime.

Sedro-Woolley, 20; Anacortes, 17
Played at Anacortes, Jan. 24, 1925.

The Cubs could not get going the first half but came back strong to win in the closing moments of the game.

Sedro-Woolley, 16; Stanwood, 17
Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 30, 1925.

Stanwood again defeated the Cubs in a rough but exciting game. They won on a foul called on the crowd by the referee.

Sedro-Woolley, 18; LaConner, 21
Played at LaConner, Jan. 31, 1925.

The Cubs led until the fourth quarter when LaConner rallied and dropped in several shots, enabling them to win.

Sedro-Woolley, 9; Everett, 36
Played at Everett, Feb. 7, 1925.

The Cubs met the speedy Everett quintet, and although they checked close, they could not keep Everett from scoring regularly.

Sedro-Woolley, 9; Burlington, 16
Played at Burlington, Feb. 13, 1925

The Cubs played a good defensive game but were not able to locate their basket.

Sedro-Woolley, 8; Mount Vernon, 11
Played at Mount Vernon, Feb. 20, 1925.

Although both teams checked well, they did not have a good eye for the basket. Many of the Cubs' shots rolled off the rim.

Sedro-Woolley, 15; Anacortes, 23
Played at Sedro-Woolley, Feb. 27, 1925.

Anacortes won a wild game in which neither team displayed much team work. Anacortes made all their shots from the floor.

SECOND TEAM BASKETBALL

MR. Goodman handled the second squad, consisting of Seidell, Kocman, Hedlund and Pilon, forwards; Sexton and Ross centers; Bryson, Minkler, Robinson and McKee, guards.

This squad played ten games during the season, winning five and losing five. The squad had to turn out at any time the gym was not occupied, but worked hard when they could turn out. The team developed some good team work as well as some good shots in Hedlund, Seidell and Kocman.

They showed their prowess over the Mount Vernon seconds by defeating them twice, by the score of 25-23 and 21-12. They split with Prairie, winning 19-16 and losing, 18-21. Concrete's first team came down but proved too much for them, winning, 33-2.

The midgets were defeated by the second squad 21-20, in an overtime game. The game was hard fought by both teams, the larger boys finally winning out.

Inter-class Basketball

THE presenting of a cup to the winning class team improved the interest in the interclass games. This cup was won this year by the seniors, who won all of their games. The first game of the year was between the juniors and freshmen. The juniors, last year's champions, were victorious as they were larger and more experienced. In the next game the seniors won from the sophs, in a roughly contested game. The team work of the seniors was hard for the sophs to break up, and therefore, the seniors found the hoop often.

The sophs defeated the freshmen, thereby tying them for second place. This game was interesting because of the rivalry between the freshmen and sophomores. Although all the school was for the freshmen, they were not able to win.

The last game was the most thrilling of all, as this was for the championship. The seniors finally won out, but the game was close right to the end. Most of the shooting was from the floor. The championship team composed of Seidell, Burligame and Koeman, forwards; Cole, center; Mullen and Robinson, guards.

Standing—Boulton, Cook, Harnett, Hedlund, VanSinderen, Carr, McMackin, Hopper, Ruble, Naubert, Blanton, Mullen, (manager), Galligan, (coach.)
 Seated—Johnson, Wersen, Hedlund, McKee, Jensen, Egnleson, Dye, Harnett, and Sexton.

1924 SCHEDULE

Sedro-Woolley	..... 4—	Burlington	..... 3
Sedro-Woolley	..... 3—	Everett	..... 4
Sedro-Woolley	..... 13—	LaConner	..... 3
Sedro-Woolley	..... 8—	Anacortes	..... 3
Sedro-Woolley	..... 15—	Mt. Vernon	..... 9
Sedro-Woolley	..... 8—	Blaine	..... 2
Sedro-Woolley	..... 3—	Hamilton	..... 4

ALTHOUGH the Cubs had the best team in the county last year, we only got a tie for the championship. At the last of the season Hamilton surprised everyone by beating the Cubs, 4-3. The Cubs had defeated Hamilton twice before, by large scores.

BASEBALL 1925

The Cubs are out for blood this spring, with five lettermen back, and, with a veteran battery, we expect to win the championship this year. The team so far has defeated Burlington, 1-0, in a game in which neither team could show any work because of heavy rain.

The Cubs also defeated Hamilton, 10-2, but could not get to hitting as they should.

The strong Everett team won over the Cubs because of the loose fielding of our team. Both teams hit well, Hedlund for Sedro-Woolley getting three safe blows out of four trips to the plate.

The Cubs won over Edison 9-1, in a slow game. The boys never started to hit until nearly the end of the game. Nine two baggers were hit during the game.

Track

THE Sedro-Woolley track team during the past few years has been finishing as a third rate team. The reason for this was the lack of a track. This year, because of the interest and the number of men turning out for track, the A. S. B. donated $33.00 for building a track and buying track equipment.

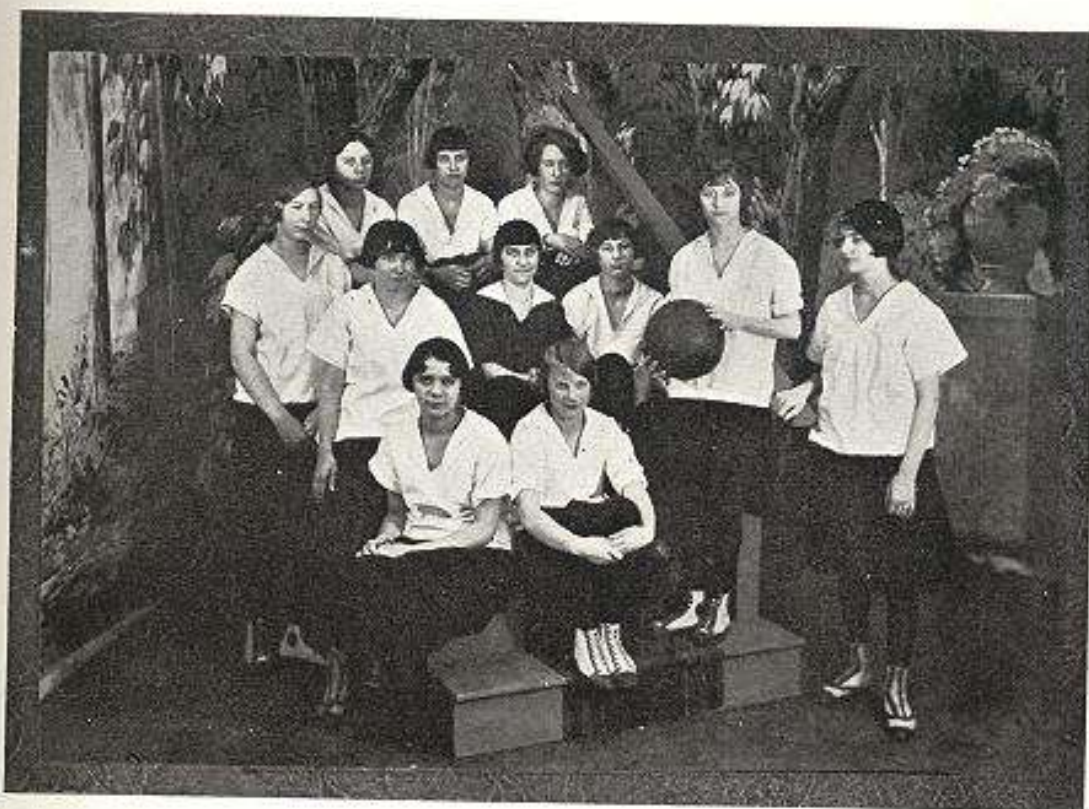

This year we had but one practice meet before the county meet. This meet was held at the Fair Grounds on April the 25th, with La-Conner.

The results were as follows: 50-yard dash—S.W., S.W., S.W.; high jump—S.W., S.W., L. C.; half mile—S.W., S.W., S.W.; mile—S.W., S.W., L. C.; broad jump—L. C., S.W., L. C.; shot put—L. C., L. C., S.W.; 100 yard dash—S.W., S.W., S.W.; 440 yard dash—S.W., S.W., S.W.; pole vault—L. C., S.W. and L. C. tied for second and third places.

The time in most events was very poor. For example, the mile was run in min., 42 sec. For this reason no time is given.

The county meet is to be held at Mount Vernon, on May the second. The following team is to be entered at Mount Vernon: Ropes, Pennington, Hustead, Cole, Sansom, Egelkroust, Hedlund, Cook, McKay, Curry, Ross, Burlingame, Lederle, Sexton, Seidell.

The inter-class meet this year was won by the seniors. They amassed a total of 71 1-3 points. The juniors were second with 28 1-3. The sophs got 9 1-3 points and the frosh obtained 2 points. The seniors made 10 first places. The juniors got the remaining four first places.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

L. Bergeron, Egelkrout, M. McKay, M. Bergeron, Leathers, Case, (coach), Douglass, Parker, Sawyer, B. McKay, Weston.

Girls' Athletics

Sedro-Woolley, 21; Mount Vernon, 36
Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 10, 1925.

Sedro-Woolley, 8; Burlington, 35
Played at Sedro-Woolley, Jan. 20, 1925.

Sedro-Woolley, 21; Anacortes, 17
Played at Anacortes, Jan. 24, 1925.

Sedro-Woolley, 19; LaConner, 35
Played at LaConner, Jan. 31, 1925.

MISS Case deserves praise for coaching the team with such constant effort. This is Miss Case's first year with the girls, and she is entitled to credit for helping them so much.

The girls making letters this year were: Bertha McKay and Lucy Parker, forwards; Louissette Bergeron and Helen Leathers, centers; Mariette Bergeron and Bessie Egelkrout, side-centers; Alma Sawyer, Clara Douglass and Margaret McKay, guards.

Captain Bertha McKay should be complimented for piloting the team so well through-out the basketball season.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

B. McKay, Schwab, M. McKay,
Leathers, Fritsch, Gillespie

Girls' Inter-Class Basketball

Juniors and Seniors, 31—Sophomores, 23

Juniors and Seniors, 45—Freshmen, 39

Sophomores, 28—Freshmen, 21

THE juniors and seniors went through the class series without any defeats. This made them girls' inter-class basketball champions. The girls playing on the Junior and Senior team were: Bertha McKay, Lucille Fritsch, Allabell Gillespie, Helen Leathers, Margaret McKay, and Maxine Spencer.

This is the only real athletic activity in which the girls have had a chance to take part during the school year. The real pep which was shown at these inter-class games helped to gain interest for the bigger games played later in the season.

Northwest Washington Basketball Tournament

THE North Western Tournament was held at Sedro-Woolley, February 26, 27, 28. The tournament was held in order to determine which three teams would represent this district at the State meet, in Seattle.

This tournament was the first one of its kind ever held in Sedro-Woolley. Its success was largely due to the efforts of Mr. Campbell, Mr. Goodman and Mr. Jerome, other members of the faculty and the splendid cooperation given the officials by the visiting teams and their coaches.

Interest in the games was keen, (high) because of the evenness with which the teams had been matched.

Our gym, which is one of the largest and best on the coast, was packed to its capacity for each game.

The sportsmanship of the visiting students and townspeople was above reproach. The officials, Ray Eckman and "Torchy" Torrance of the University of Washington, handled their jobs very capably.

As a result of the tournament, Whatcom, Edison and Everett took the first three places as winners to represent this division at the U. of W. March 12, 13, 14. Nine teams entered into the tournament: three teams from Whatcom, Snohomish and Skagit counties. Each of the nine teams that was represented in the tournament was allowed to send eight players and a coach. All their expenses were paid.

The greatest difference between any of the scores was 23 points made when Edison defeated Sumas 33 to 10. Many of the games ended with one or two points difference in the tallies. Only in one game, however, that is, in the one between Lynden and Whatcom, was a play off of a tie necessary. In this game, the score at the end of the regular playing time was 29-29; after five minutes overtime play, Whatcom emerged victorious, 31-30.

The tournament, as well as promoting a more friendly feeling among the schools of the districts, was a financial success. Total receipts for the games was $1400. After deducting all expenses the net receipts were $800.

THE story of "17" centers around the family of William Sylvanus Baxter. The Baxter family live peaceably until the arrival of Miss Lola Pratt, a frivolous blond. William, as well as the rest of the town boys, falls deeply in love with the beautiful Lola. He thinks that in order to win her he must have an evening suit, as none of his friends possess such a luxury. The fun begins with William's attempts to secure his coveted suit. Jane Baxter, William's little sister, serves to make many embarrassing situations for the bashful William. When Lola's visit finally comes to an end William decided that she did not really care for him. He promises to go to college and endeavor to forget his flirtation.

to Virginia in a game, called Philippine. Mr. Bullivant, who is a criminal lawyer, finds with Susan's help, that his camelia has a hair tied round it, and thus he starts out to get the flower. He follows them to London.

The third act opens in Mr. Jarvis' apartments in London. He has the diamond, and is giving it to Mr. Valentine Wolfe, a Jewish broker. Both men realize that Jarvis has made some mistake. Wolfe does not take the diamond. Grumpy and his valet arrive, but Mr. Jarvis sneaks out of the door. Mr. Bullivant and Ruddock return to their home.

In the fourth act, which is laid in Grumpy's house, Mr. Bullivant gets the camelia which he had been searching for, and gets the diamond from Mr. Jarvis. Virginia and Ernest become engaged, and Mr. Jarvis is arrested by the sheriff from Manchester. Thus, the play ends successfully.

The School Carnival

"FUN" was the by-word of a 1000 people when they attended the High School Carnival, given at the school building, Tuesday, October 28.

Booths and side shows were kept busy all evening entertaining one crowd after another—side shows in which remarkable awe-inspiring curios were exhibited; in which living pictures of our ancestors were portrayed by the "lynogough," and in which beautiful dancing girls entranced us; all this and much more served as a source of entertainment to the large crowd which attended.

The main show proved equally as popular as the side shows. The one act comedy, "The Gate," given by the Dramatic Club, was a decided success. Following this were several novelty acts of songs and dances.

During the evening the side shows performed continuously. These acts were:

Seniors	- - - - -	Senior Follies
Juniors	- - - - -	The Museum
Sophomores	- - - - -	Lynogough
Freshmen	- - - - -	Spanish Dancers
Cub	- - - - -	Athletic Stadium

The "Senior Follies," took in the most money while the "Spanish Dancers" and the "Lynogough" came in as close seconds.

The grand finale of the evening was the presentation of the cake to Lenore Hammer, the Junior representative, who won in the popularity contest held by the S. W. Club.

From a financial viewpoint the Carnival was more than a success, as the school finances were increased by five hundred dollars.

The success of this fun festival was due greatly to the efforts of Allabell Gillespie, student manager of the Carnival.

Music Department

GLEE CLUBS

THE Glee Clubs have worked very hard this year and have accomplished a great deal. There were eighty-six girls enrolled in the girls' glee club and thirty-one boys in the boys'. Glee Club was held twice a week during school hours, under the leadership of Miss Opjordon. The Glee Clubs worked hard for the concert which was given April 17, and they also helped with a musical program which was given in the assembly.

ORCHESTRA

When the orchestra was organized this year, a great many of the members were new, few of them having had any experience in orchestra work. However, they all worked hard, and, under the efficient supervision of Miss Opjordon, improved a great deal during the year.

The most important musical event of the year was the concert given April 17, and the orchestra played several selections that evening. They also played for the Senior Play, "Grumpy," the all-school play, "Seventeen," a program given in the assembly, and they accompanied assembly singing several times.

The members of the orchestra this year were:

First violin: Lenore Hammer, Benny White, Howard Qualls, Gordon Sheik, Juanita Jeffrey and Semonne Lillpop.

Second violin: Eathyl Brunk, James Bryson, Frances Good-year and Clyde Scoffield.

Saxophones: Gilbert Haffly and Arno Lockwood.

Cornets: Betty Jordan, Louis LaPlant and Harold Frazier.

Melophone: Herbert Steen.

Mandolins: Kenneth Horton, William Beneke, LeRoy Curtis.

Banjo: Charles Gaddis.

Trombone: Burl Hammond.

Piano—Ruth Byham.

Senior Ball

THE gymnasium was used as a social hall for the first time in its history on the occasion of the Senior Ball held Friday, April 24. This dance, which was the most successful affair of the season, was enjoyed by the students, faculty, and alumni and husbands and wives.

The gymnasium was cleverly decorated to represent an outdoor scene. A huge moon surrounded by stars shone down on the gay picture, and many other clever lighting effects were used. The music, furnished by Barney's five-piece orchestra, came from a woodland cave. The walls of the gymnasium were hidden by trees with moss and flowers underneath. The beautiful decorations, brightened by the girls' pretty dresses, made a lovely picture.

The novelty dances were the surprise feature of the evening. These were given by Violet Adams and Irene Murphy. At the conclusion, numbers were drawn and the girl drawing the lucky number won a large box of candy furnished by Leeman's. Punch was also served.

The patrons and patronesses for the Ball were Mr. and Mrs. C. Paine Shangle, Mr. and Mrs. John Guddall, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Slipper, and Mr. J. M. Campbell.

The members of the committee in charge were Lorna Slipper, chairman; Betty Russell, Thelma Stendal, Ruth Byham, Margaret McKay, Jack Ryno, Tom Mullen, Gilbert Haffly and Alfred Johnson. Much credit is also due the manual training classes, who, under the direction of Mr. Hogan, assisted with the decoration work.

The Freshmen-Sophomore Mixer

THE 1924-25 social season was opened by a charming party given by the sophomores. This affair was the official coming out party of the new freshmen, and was intended to introduce them to the delights of high school life. It was given in the cafeteria Friday, September 12, 1924, at eight o'clock.

The cafeteria was cleverly disguised in yellow and white, the sophomore class colors. Large bouquets of yellow and white flowers along with Japanese lanterns, graced the room. Owing to the presence of the honor guests, who were supposedly inexperienced in the art of dancing, games were the diversion of the evening. They were enjoyed greatly by the freshmen, and also by many of the more sophisticated sophomores who realized that this was their last opportunity to revel in childish play. At ten-thirty the grand march was played; after that everyone was served with dainty refreshments.

About two hundred freshmen and sophomores were present at the party. The young blood was chaperoned by the members of the faculty, who were present in large numbers. Miss Andrews was general director of the affair, assisted by five other teachers at the head of the committees. The student chairman of the committees were: invitation, Doris Joe; decoration, Ursula Trudeau; refreshment, Helen Hightower; entertainment, Katherine Rhine; and clean up, Helen Condy.

S. W. Banquet

SPRING was ushered in this year by the S. W. Banquet, on March 20. The guests who enjoyed the delightful dinner served by Miss Pennewell and her cafeteria staff were the members of the S. W. Clubs, Mr. and Mrs. C. Paine Shangle, Miss Freda Laird, Mr. Glen Galligan and Mr. J. M. Campbell. Covers were laid for thirty-six, altogether.

The cafeteria was decorated under the supervision of Margaret McKay. Dainty spring flowers and place cards graced the table.

After the dinner, the toastmaster, Mr. Galligan, took charge. Mr. Shangle first gave a review of all school athletics during the past three years, and then Miss Laird talked on girls' athletics. Tom Mullen and Wesley Ruble together told about football, while Charles Lederle talked on the subject of basketball. Gus Hedlund and Arthur Harnett spoke on baseball, and Bertha McKay gave the girls' ideas on basketball. Alma Sawyer spoke of her duty as basketball captain for the coming year. Mr. Campbell concluded the addresses with a speech on tendencies in athletics.

The guests all reported a very enjoyable time, particularly to those who were ineligible to attend. The work of Miss Pennewell and her staff was very much appreciated, as was proved by the many compliments showered upon her, and also by the mammoth appetites demonstrated by the overworked athletes.

Literary Activities Banquet

SOMETHING new in the way of banquets was introduced on May 8. On this date the Cub staff, Kumtux staff and debaters were honored with a delightful dinner served in the cafeteria. This was the first time these activities had ever been so rewarded. The banquet was given, however, not only for the purpose of rewarding the people who had worked in these activities, but also to encourage future workers. Those invited were the debaters, their adviser, the editor and associate editor of the Kumtux, their adviser, the business manager of the Kumtux and his assistant, their adviser, the Cub editor and associate editors, the Cub business manager and assistants, their adviser, and the dramatic coach.

The main features of the evening were the after dinner talks. Mr. Shangle was toastmaster and the talks given were as follows:

The Cub's Pa—Mr. Jerome.

The Value of Debate—John Sanson.

To Our Friends—Thelma Stendal.

Behind the Scenes—Miss Jones.

Goodbye Little Bear—Lorna Slipper.

The Technique of Debating—Charles Hendrickson.

The Ups and Downs of a Faculty Adviser—Miss Olson.

The Art of "Adding"—George Kocman.

Tests and Measurements—Miss Andrews.

Financing the Kumtux—Art Bargewell.

The dinner was served by Miss Pennewell and her staff to a very appreciative "audience."

As the first affair of its kind given in honor of the literary and debate activities, this banquet was a decided success.

"Arthur," said Mr. Jerome, "What is a Cape?"

"A cape is a piece of land extending into the water."

"That's right. Now, Evelyn, define gulf."

"A gulf is a piece of water extending into the land."

"Good." "Hilma," to a small, eager-looking little girl, "can you tell me what is a mountain?"

"A mountain," responded Hilma, "is a piece of land extending into the air."

Mrs. Ruel in Anc. History: "Who led the children of Israel out of Egypt?"

There was no answer.

Pointing to a timid Freshman, Thomas McGinnis, she demanded a little crossly, "Little boy, who led the children of Israel out of Egypt?"

Thomas was ready to cry as he pined out with a quavering voice, "Please ma'am, it wasn't me. We just moved here last week. We're from Missouri."
